

TOWNE ALKE

"Just for Fun"

By RAS BERRY

The bus. mgr. he just come and he says that St Rappaport is running a double page adv. in this here issue on a big sale only the two page adv. is two pages less one colyum on each side and it is up to the editorial dept. to furnish two colyums of early copy to fill up the sides of that there adv. and so this here colyum has got to be a full colyum instead of half or three quarters of a colyum.

That makes it tough because they ain't much more to say about the dawg-house.

But the cat has had her kittens and instead of there being a baker's dozen they is only four. The reason the cat was so big was because them kittens was so big. They is a lot of folks who is asked for one of the kittens who is gonna be disappointed—yet they is one left for him as want it.

Jimmie Hines who used to live here he bought some land that seemed like it would be oil land over to Long Beach and then after he waited a couple of years why they found the edge of the structure and Jim's land wasn't in the money so Jim he builds a swell big house on the property and moves in and then somebody bored a hole and found plenty of petroleum and now Jim's house is setting right on top of a lot of gas and the company that has got his land leased says get that there house off here and let us do our stuff so Jim is gonna move, lock, stock and barrel.

Fay Parks he says that when you are collecting bills if you don't know your avocados you is apt to begin to think that you is pretty popular because you get so many invitation to come again.

The bus. mgr. who has been on the outside looking in for a number of yrs. says he notices that a lot of failures among marriages is due to marriages among failures.

They is a big pile of logs in our back yard and so I buys a axe the other day and presents it to my paw who needs exercise.

On the way home with this here axe I puts it over my shoulder and goes in to the 1st. Nat'l and asks for a loan. The only way you can get one says Verne Babcock is to whittle me down to your size with that axe. No, says I, all I want to do is cut down the interest. What you need, says Verne, is not no axe to cut your interest but some fertilizer to make your balance grow. Nobody was hurt.

It's a long way to the bottom of this colyum.

Bill Bolles he called upon his gal. His was the lover's bliss. And gaily when he reached the porch this:

like

He

Bill stayed till after three o'clock. Her old man got real sore. He dragged Bill from the parlor couch him out the door!

And kicked

That helps.

The San Francisco Tigers beat the Chicago Bears, Red Grange and all. Spud Murphy figured the Bears was a 10 to 5 favorite. One thing you can say about Spud. He is consistent.

When W. E. B. Partridge was over to Scotland he went out to a remote golf course and got to talking with a Scotch caddie. Well says W. E. B. do you have water caddying up here in the winter. Naw says the Scotch guy. Verra seldom for it isna frost it's rain and if it isna rain it's wind. But suppose it is a fine day says W. E. B. Then it's generally the Sawhath says the Scot.

We got a new job press and we had Scotty Scott install the motor and wire it up and Scotty says you ought to put me on the payroll and I says why and he says for pulling wires for the newspaper.

Look out you don't get a shock, says I.

And the above conversation never took place at all, but I had to put it in to fill up this here colyum and the next time St Rappaport has a big sale I hope he will buy two full pages instead of two pages minus a couple colyums.
